

Hope Circuits: Rewiring Universities and Other Organizations for Human Flourishing By Jessica Riddell

"An exceptional book. Riddell's voice is unmistakably fresh; the integration of diverse voices is powerful and seamless." NANCY CHICK, Endeavor Foundation Center for Faculty Development, Rollins College

"Riddell's framework of hope goes beyond the performative language of decolonizing higher education to offer a plan of action to transform our institutions to meet this moment." DAWN MICHELE WHITEHEAD, American Association of Colleges and Universities

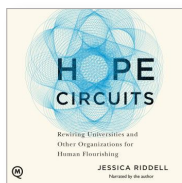

"A wonderful, fascinating book. It raises a host of important ideas and issues, employs a provocative and engaging style, and makes a genuine contribution to ongoing debates as to how we should salvage or strengthen our post-secondary institutions." DAVID CREELMAN, University of New Brunswick

"Hope Circuits is more than a book; it is a clarion call to action for Higher Education." Teaching and Learning Inquiry

How do we model abundance – in teaching, in learning, in leading organizations, particularly non-profits – when dealing with fiscal austerity and other forms of scarcity thinking? Hope Circuits explores this question, balancing sophisticated ideas with democratizing higher education for everybody.

Jessica Riddell is professor of English and Stephen A. Jarislowsky Chair of Undergraduate Excellence at Bishop's University.
